News and Events at the Parlin Field Airport in Newport, New Hampshire December Newsletter

Paving the Way

A new asphalt overlay was applied to the apron in front of the terminal building earlier this fall. The old, uneven pavement, was a daily source of foreign object debris. The project involved milling and grinding out the perimeter, applying an emulsion to the entire project area and overlaying 930sy with 1 ½" of asphalt pavement. The project was completed in one day without disruption to airport operations. In addition to a beautifully smooth surface and transition into the Callum Community hangar, the new pavement provides a great first impression for arrivals at Parlin Field. We couldn't be more pleased with the result.

Community

The airport is home once again to the Newport wrestling team. The champion wrestling team has use of the hangar for their weekly practices from December through April. The spacious hangar is perfect for the team as it provides ample room for the wrestling mats, kids, coaches and parents to coach and watch over the next several months. Best wishes to the Newport wrestling team for a successful 2016 season!

Waaaay up North

Looking for winter weather? Or maybe some adventure? If so, we've found the perfect place for you.

Scott Christy, our friend from Alaska, has a wilderness camp approximately 25 miles east of Seward, Alaska. He sent these beautiful pictures of his picturesque remote land. Scott has been busy constructing numerous out buildings that allow visitors to stay in relative comfort and enjoy all the surroundings. If you're interested in a stay, let us know and we'll put you in contact with Scott.
